Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 25 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rather cloudy, but some bright or sunny spells. Mostly dry.

Today:
A rather cloudy day, although some bright or sunny spells are expected. Staying dry for most, however isolated showers are possible, mainly during the afternoon. Breezy. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Any showers soon easing with clear spells developing. Some thicker cloud could spread south during the early hours of Wednesday, but likely staying dry. Feeling chilly. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Wednesday:
A fine start, with bright or sunny spells expected. Cloud will gradually thicken through the day, but likely staying dry. Still rather breezy along the south coast. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A mostly fine, dry period, with variable amounts of cloud and sunny spells. Warmer temperatures than recent days, but still some chilly nights.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.